Meet our President,

Hi friends!

My name is Mary Reedy. I am in my last year of the TBSN program at ECPI University. I currently work as a Student Nurse Tutor for the University and as a Student Nurse Intern at Halifax Health. When I'm not in class or working, I'm a wife and mom to five kiddos (and one adorable Corgi named Waffles). I joined LMSNA and am currently serving as the President because I wanted to be more involved with the students on campus and drive a positive experience for all. When I graduate, I would love to work in the OR and become a First Assist while perusing my DNP.

Meet our Vice President,

Richena Louis

Upon graduation I most look forward to spending my career as an ICU or Labor and Delivery nurse. My ultimate goal is to make a difference day by day and give quality care to every patient that I encounter.

Meet our Editor,

Hello ALL! My name is Cyn Wilson. I am a non-traditional ATBSN student, wife, and mother of four amazing children. I have been an LPN for a decade now but have always known that advanced practice nursing was my goal and my passion. For a while, furthering my education seemed to only be a dream. Then, God led me to ECPI and what appeared to be "just a dream" has become my reality! All of my children aspire to be medical doctors and they have charged me with starting the family business, "Wilson Medical Center," where we will all work together offering individualized holistic healthcare services in a multi-specialty clinical setting. BIG goals, right? I'm aware and challenge accepted! After ECPI, I will either be pursuing my MSN or going to medical school. Being a non-traditional student, it was important to me to attach myself to organizations with likeminded individuals which led me to LMSNA, where I am not only proud to be a member of but am also the new Editor! I look forward to my growth in my program,

Meet our Historian,

I joined LMSNA to network with peers, advocate for student nursing issues, and enhance my professional development as a student nurse. When I've completed my nursing degree, I would like to become a psychiatric nurse to assist with breaking the stigma surrounding mental health.

Best regards,
Norma P.

Meet our Treasurer,

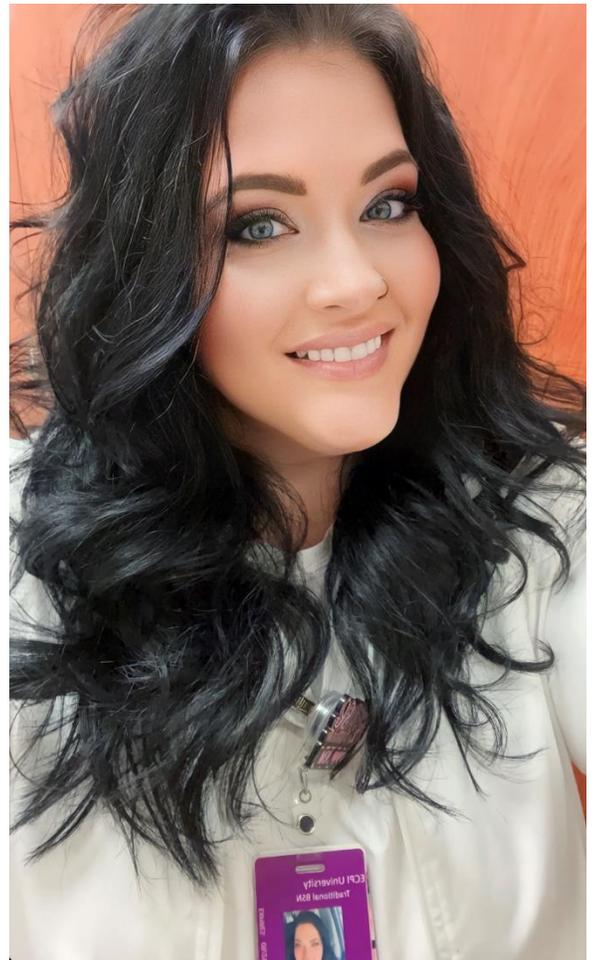

Ruth Sannon

I am currently the LMSNA Treasurer and enjoy managing the fiscal activities, especially as it relates to giving back to our members and hosting community engagement activities. I am in the ADN Program and enjoy the program and the professors. I am interested in working in the ICU, after I graduate.

Meet our Public Relations Specialist,

Hey Future Nurses,

My name is Jenifer Taylor, I am currently in the TBSN program working on the final count down, yes, the last year is approaching. Well, a little about me I am 42 years old (I know right!!). Describing my reason for becoming a nurse is as simple as this "They say you become a nurse to take care of people because it fulfills the part of you that needs healing". I joined LMSNA to add more leadership to my skill set and resume. I well let's say got to be your Public Relations Specialist by a sole entry to run, lol if you want the whole story stop me in the hallway and ask anytime. This journey has been one of the most mentally hardest things I have ever done to date. I am still up in the air for what I want to do, I have the opportunity in my job to shadow nurses to see where I want to be and for now it's the OR, Pediatric Oncology or Mental health. I still have time to decide. I am sure you will see me in the hallway, feel free to say Hello!!
